Art Unit: 3742

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 9 is provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of original claim 12 of copending Application No. 10/087899. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 17, 18, 20, 21, 22, 23, and 24 respectively of U.S.

Patent No. 6467394 in view of Polk et al. (US 4926904) or Saney (US 5871152). Both Polk and Saney disclose pressure washing devices having pulse dampening hoses retained thereto in order to minimize pressure fluctuations. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a pressure pulse dampening hose in order to minimize pressure fluctuation as is well known in the art.

Claims 10-18 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 9-16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,431,844. '844 claims the same invention with the exception of a framed engine assembly for driving the pump it is generally well known in the art to provide framed engine assembly coupled to a pressure pump to provide for a portable unit. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the device claimed in '844 to include a frame and engine assembly in order to make a pressure washing system that is portable.

Claims 19-23 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 17-24 of U.S. Patent No. 6,467,394. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the application claims are merely broader than the patent claim. Once an applicant has received a patent for a more specific embodiment, applicant is not entitled to a patent for a broader invention. See In re Goodman. The generic invention is anticipated by the species of the patented invention. With respect to the claim limitations of a cylinder formed in a pump housing, these limitations are considered to be inherent in the patent claims.

Claims 24 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 9-16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,431,844. '844 claims the same invention with the exception of an unloader valve, it is generally well known in the art to provide an unloader valve coupled to a pressure washer to provide for relieving pressure on the unit when not in use. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the device claimed in '844 to include an unloader valve in order to provide for relieving pressure on the unit when not in use.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 25-26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
